THE CREATOR WORKFLOW — RUN EVERY PROMPT THROUGH THIS

Outline → Draft → Critique → Revise → Format → Publish

Section 01 · Prompts 1–6

Social Media & Viral Hooks

"These prompts helped me generate social content that actually gets engagement — stops the scroll and starts the conversation."

01 Content Idea Generator

THE PROMPT

Give me 10 content post ideas for [platform] about [topic]. Mix tips, personal stories, client wins, and questions. Make each one scroll-stopping.

Best for: Planning a full week of content in 5 minutes. Replace [platform] with YouTube, LinkedIn, TikTok, or Instagram.

02 Viral Hook Builder

THE PROMPT

Write 5 opening lines for a social post about [topic] that grab attention in the first 3 seconds. Use curiosity, contrast, and bold claims.

Best for: YouTube intros, Instagram captions, TikTok hooks. The first line is everything.

03 Carousel Script Starter

THE PROMPT

Give me a 5-slide Instagram carousel script about [topic]. Include a hook slide, 3 value slides, and a strong CTA slide with a specific action.

Best for: Educational carousels that build authority and drive saves — the highest-engagement post type on Instagram.

04 Thought Leadership Builder

THE PROMPT

Write a short LinkedIn post that positions me as an expert in [industry]. Include 1 key insight, 1 personal touch, and end with a question for discussion.

Best for: Building authority with your ideal client before they're ready to buy. Posts conversations before pitches.

05 Personal Story Format

THE PROMPT

Help me turn this personal story into a social post. Include setup, moment of realization, and takeaway lesson. Make it relatable and honest — not polished.

Best for: Building genuine connection. Stories outperform tips in every algorithm right now.

06 Viral Hook Idea Bank

THE PROMPT

Write 5 short viral-style hooks for [topic]. Each should make someone stop scrolling. Include a mix of curiosity, bold claims, and surprising contrarian takes.

Best for: Building a swipe file of hooks you can test across multiple platforms and formats.

Section 02 · Prompts 7–12

YouTube Scripts & Video Content

"These are the exact prompts I use to script, outline, and package YouTube videos — including the video you probably found this from."

07

YouTube Video Outline

THE PROMPT

Create a complete YouTube video outline for a video titled "[title]". Include hook, intro promise, 4-5 named sections with key points, and a CTA close. Target length: [X] minutes.

Best for: Getting from blank page to full outline in under 2 minutes. Works for any niche.

08

Video Hook Generator

THE PROMPT

Write 3 different 30-second video hooks for a YouTube video about [topic]. Each hook should challenge a false belief, show proof, and promise a clear payoff. No fluff.

Best for: The first 30 seconds of any video — the make-or-break window for retention.

09

YouTube Title Generator

THE PROMPT

Give me 10 YouTube title options for a video about [topic]. Include titles using: free vs paid angle, specific number, timeframe, hidden secret angle, and false belief challenge.

Best for: Packaging videos before scripting. Title first, always — the packaging decides if anyone watches.

10

Video Description SEO

THE PROMPT

Write a YouTube video description for a video about [topic]. Include: a 2-sentence hook, bullet list of what viewers learn, tools mentioned, and relevant hashtags. SEO-optimized.

Best for: Search discovery. A strong description gets your video found long after the upload date.

11

YouTube Script — Intro

THE PROMPT

Write a 60-second YouTube video intro for a video titled "[title]". Open with proof or a bold claim, add an anti-hype line, then promise 3 specific things the viewer will know by the end.

Best for: Setting retention up in the first minute — the most critical window in any video.

12

Shorts Script Generator

THE PROMPT

Write a 34-second YouTube Shorts script about [topic]. Structure: visual hook (no sound needed) → 2-line foreshadow → "but" complication → "therefore" payoff → abrupt end. No outro.

Best for: The proven Short formula. Abrupt ending forces rewatch — that's what drives 90%+ retention.

Section 03 · Prompts 13–18

Email & Marketing Copy

"These saved me when I had to write dozens of emails fast — welcome sequences, follow-ups, cold outreach. They work for clients and for CFS."

13 Welcome Email

THE PROMPT

Write a warm welcome email for new subscribers to my [type of business] newsletter. Include what to expect, why they should stay subscribed, and one immediate value they can use today.

Best for: Email #1 in any welcome sequence. First impressions compound — this email sets the tone for everything that follows.

14 Lead Magnet Delivery Email

THE PROMPT

Write a short email that delivers my freebie [describe it] with a thank-you, clear download instructions, and a teaser of what's coming next. Keep it under 150 words.

Best for: The email that goes out immediately after signup. Short, clear, delivers exactly what was promised.

15 Landing Page Hero Copy

THE PROMPT

Write a bold hero section for a landing page selling [product/service]. Include: headline (benefit-first, under 10 words), subheadline (who it's for + outcome), and 3 bullet benefits. No fluff.

Best for: Any lead magnet page, product page, or sales page. Benefit-first always outperforms feature-first.

16 Cold Outreach Email

THE PROMPT

Write a friendly cold outreach email to introduce my [service] to [target client]. Keep it under 100 words. Open with their pain, offer a specific solution, and end with one easy yes/no question.

Best for: Fiverr and direct client outreach. Short emails get replies. Long emails get ignored.

17 Value Drop Email

THE PROMPT

Write a short value-packed email on [topic] that teaches 1 useful tip in under 200 words. End with a subtle link or CTA — but only after the value is delivered. Never lead with the pitch.

Best for: Weekly newsletters and affiliate promotions. Education IS the conversion.

18 Newsletter Subject Lines

THE PROMPT

Give me 5 subject lines for a newsletter about [topic]. Vary the tone across: curiosity, boldness, humor, and value promise. No clickbait — each subject line must deliver what it implies.

Best for: A/B testing subject lines. The subject line is the thumbnail of your email — it decides everything.

Section 04 · Prompts 19–22

Digital Products & Offer Building

"These are what I used to build prompt packs, playbooks, and offers. Design once, sell unlimited times — that's the digital product model."

19 Offer Idea Generator

THE PROMPT

Give me 5 fast digital product or service ideas I could sell in the [niche] space. Focus on: easy to create, clear outcome for buyer, and sellable for $9–$97. Tag each as PDF / Template / Service.

Best for: Unsticking when you don't know what to sell. Two ideas from this prompt shipped within a week for one creator — $3K MRR result.

20 Monetization Roadmap

THE PROMPT

Create a 3-step monetization roadmap for a creator with skills in [area] and an audience of [size/type]. Include: 1 fast offer, 1 scalable product, and 1 recurring income stream. Be specific.

Best for: Building your income stack from scratch. Forces clarity on what to build first vs. what to build later.

21 Product Bundle Description

THE PROMPT

Write a sales description for a digital product bundle that includes [list items]. Explain: what each piece does, who it's for, and why the bundle is worth more than the sum of its parts. Max 200 words.

Best for: Gumroad, Etsy, and website product pages. Bundles have higher perceived value — price them accordingly.

22 Offer Clarity Boost

THE PROMPT

Take this rough offer description and make it sharper and clearer for a non-expert audience: [paste your draft]. Rewrite as: Problem → Solution → Outcome → Who it's for. Under 100 words.

Best for: Turning a fuzzy idea into a sharp, sellable offer. Clarity converts — confusion doesn't.

Section 05 · Prompts 23–25

AI Side Hustle & Income Systems

"The prompts I use to build and systematize income streams — not just create content."

23 Revenue Idea Generator

THE PROMPT

Suggest 5 fast revenue-generating ideas for a [type of creator/freelancer] in the [niche]. Prioritize simplicity and speed to first dollar. Tag each: Quick Win / Long Bet. Include effort (1–5 scale).

Best for: Finding the fastest path to income when you need it now. Quick Win tags are where to start.

24 Gig Site Bio Writer

THE PROMPT

Write a short freelancer profile bio for [Fiverr/Upwork] that sounds friendly, expert, and results-focused. Mention [credentials/experience]. Under 150 words. End with a specific CTA.

Best for: Fiverr and Upwork profiles. Your bio is your first impression — make it sound like a person, not a template.

25 AI Workflow System Builder

THE PROMPT

Build me a repeatable AI workflow for [task I do regularly]. Break it into steps: what to prompt at each stage, what to check before moving forward, and what the final output looks like. Make it a system I can run every time.

Best for: Turning one-time AI tasks into repeatable systems. A workflow you can run in your sleep is worth 10x a prompt you have to think about every time.
